DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant

1. This communication is in response to application filed 15 October 2003. Claims 1-58 remain pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-58 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tritch et al. (2003/0040939). .

4. As per claim 1, Tritch teaches a method of storing and retrieving a plurality of advance medical directives corresponding to a plurality of members, the method comprising the steps of:
providing for receiving a medical directive from a member (Tritch; para. 23);
providing for storing the medical directive in a memory, the memory capable of being searched (Tritch; para. 24);

providing for receiving a request for a medical directive from a user, the request comprising an identifier corresponding to one of the plurality of members (Tritch; para. 30);
providing for searching the memory for a medical directive corresponding to the identifier received from the user (Tritch; para. 27);
and providing for the availability of the corresponding medical directive to the user (Tritch; para. 27).

5. As per claim 2, Tritch teaches wherein the identifier comprises one of either a name, an identification number, or a name and identification number (Tritch; para. 25).
6. As per claim 3, Tritch teaches providing for a database, the database capable of storing information corresponding to one of the plurality of members (Tritch; para. 24).
7. As per claim 4, Tritch providing for electronically transmitting the corresponding medical directive to the user (Tritch; paras. 27 and 30).
8. As per claim 5, Tritch teaches wherein the medical directive is one of either a written document, a recorded sound, or a recorded audio-visual event (Tritch; para. 23).

9. As per claim 6, Tritch teaches providing for transmitting a message to the user, the message comprising a notice indicating whether the member has a corresponding medical directive stored in the memory (Tritch; paras. 27 and 30).

10. As per claim 7, Tritch teaches wherein the identification number received from the user is the Social Security number of the member (Tritch; para. 26).

11. As per claim 8, Tritch teaches wherein the name received from the user is the name of the member (Tritch; para. 26).

12. As per claim 9, Tritch teaches providing for assigning a unique identification number to the member (Tritch; para. 26).

13. As per claim 10, Tritch teaches wherein the identification number received from the user is the unique identification number assigned to the member (Tritch; para. 26).

14. As per claim 11, Tritch teaches providing for receiving emergency contact information from the member; and providing for storing the emergency contact information in the memory (Tritch; para. 23).

15. As per claim 12, Tritch teaches providing for the availability to the user of emergency contact information corresponding to the member (Tritch; para. 27 and 30).

16. As per claim 13, Tritch teaches providing for receiving a second medical directive from a member who has a first medical directive stored in the memory; and providing for storing the second medical directive in the memory (Tritch; para 24).

17. As per claim 14, Tritch teaches providing for notifying a member that a medical directive corresponding to the member has been stored in the memory for longer than a predetermined period of time (Tritch; paras. 27 and 30).

18. As per claim 15, Tritch teaches providing for allowing a member to regulate a user's access to a medical directive corresponding to the user (Tritch; para. 26).

19. As per claim 16, Tritch teaches providing for requiring a member to transmit information identifying the member (Tritch; para. 26).

20. Claims 17-58 contain substantially the same limitations of claims 1-16 and the reasons for rejection are incorporated herein.
